Diverse and demand-oriented

The agricultural machinery industry does not consist exclusively of multi-national global players with their own worldwide network; many medium-sized companies, often family-run, with specialist knowledge are also active in the market. iwis agrisystems has risen to become market leader in Europe in the harvesting machinery sector.

Our technical advisory service, based at the Competence Centre in Sontra, Germany, is at your disposal to answer questions and give advice in connection with your specific application. Contact us to order our comprehensive catalogue for agricultural machine chains. We stock our warehouse in line with market demands and maintain a modern logistics chain to ensure that we can always deliver the right chain when you need it.

We will be glad to provide support and advice for the configuration of the chain for your application!
